These Notes are intended to give the basic instructions concerning the filing of amendments under article 19. The Notes are based on the requirements of the Patent Cooperation Treaty, the Regulations and the Administrative Instructions under that Treaty. In case of discrepancy between these Notes and those requirements, the latter are applicable. For more detailed information, see also the PCT Applicant's Guide, a publication of WIPO.

In these Notes, "Article", "Rule", and "Section" refer to the provisions of the PCT, the PCT Regulations and the PCT Administrative Instructions respectively.

INSTRUCTIONS CONCERNING AMENDMENTS UNDER ARTICLE 19

The applicant has, after having received the international search report, one opportunity to amend the claims of the international application. It should however be emphasized that, since all parts of the international application (claims, description and drawings) may be amended during the international preliminary examination procedure, there is usually no need to file amendments of the claims under Article 19 except where, e.g. the applicant wants the latter to be published for the purposes of provisional protection or has another reason for amending the claims before international publication. Furthermore, it should be emphasized that provisional protection is available in some States only.

What parts of the international application may be amended?

Under Article 19, only the claims may be amended.

During the international phase, the claims may also be amended (or further amended) under Article 34 before the International Preliminary Examining Authority. The description and drawings may only be amended under Article 34 before the International Examining Authority.

Upon entry into the national phase, all parts of the international application may be amended under Article 28 or, where applicable, Article 41.

When?

Within 2 months from the date of transmittal of the international search report or 16 months from the priority date, whichever time limit expires later. It should be noted, however, that the amendments will be considered as having been received on time if they are received by the International Bureau after the expiration of the applicable time limit but before the completion of the technical preparations for international publication (Rule 46.1).

Where not to file the amendments?

The amendments may only be filed with the International Bureau and not with the receiving Office or the International Searching Authority (Rule 46.2).

Where a demand for international preliminary examination has been/is filed, see below.

How?

Either by cancelling one or more entire claims, by adding one or more new claims or by amending the text of one or more of the claims as filed.

A replacement sheet must be submitted for each sheet of the claims which, on account of an amendment or amendments, differs from the sheet originally filed.

All the claims appearing on a replacement sheet must be numbered in Arabic numerals. Where a claim is cancelled, no renumbering of the other claims is required. In all cases where claims are renumbered, they must be renumbered consecutively (Administrative Instructions, Section 205(b)).

The amendments must be made in the language in which the international application is to be published.

What documents must/may accompany the amendments?

Letter (Section 205(b)):

The amendments must be submitted with a letter.

The letter will not be published with the international application and the amended claims. It should not be confused with the "Statement under Article 19(1)" (see below, under "Statement under Article 19(1)").

The letter must be in English or French, at the choice of the applicant. However, if the language of the international application is English, the letter must be in English; if the language of the international application is French, the letter must be in French.

The letter must indicate the differences between the claims as filed and the claims as amended. It must, in particular, indicate, in connection with each claim appearing in the international application (it being understood that identical indications concerning several claims may be grouped), whether

- (i) the claim is unchanged;
- (ii) the claim is cancelled;
- (iii) the claim is new;
- (iv) the claim replaces one or more claims as filed;
- (v) the claim is the result of the division of a claim as filed.

The following examples illustrate the manner in which amendments must be explained in the accompanying letter:

1. [Where originally there were 48 claims and after amendment of some claims there are 51]:
"Claims 1 to 29, 31, 32, 34, 35, 37 to 48 replaced by amended claims bearing the same numbers; claims 30, 33 and 36 unchanged; new claims 49 to 51 added."
2. [Where originally there were 15 claims and after amendment of all claims there are 11]:
"Claims 1 to 15 replaced by amended claims 1 to 11."
3. [Where originally there were 14 claims and the amendments consist in cancelling some claims and in adding new claims]:
"Claims 1 to 6 and 14 unchanged; claims 7 to 13 cancelled; new claims 15, 16 and 17 added." or
"Claims 7 to 13 cancelled; new claims 15, 16 and 17 added; all other claims unchanged."
4. [Where various kinds of amendments are made]:
"Claims 1-10 unchanged; claims 11 to 13, 18 and 19 cancelled; claims 14, 15 and 16 replaced by amended claim 14; claim 17 subdivided into amended claims 15, 16 and 17; new claims 20 and 21 added."

"Statement under article 19(1)" (Rule 46.4)

The amendments may be accompanied by a statement explaining the amendments and indicating any impact that such amendments might have on the description and the drawings (which cannot be amended under Article 19(1)).

The statement will be published with the international application and the amended claims.

It must be in the language in which the international application is to be published.

It must be brief, not exceeding 500 words if in English or if translated into English.

It should not be confused with and does not replace the letter indicating the differences between the claims as filed and as amended. It must be filed on a separate sheet and must be identified as such by a heading, preferably by using the words "Statement under Article 19(1)."

It may not contain any disparaging comments on the international search report or the relevance of citations contained in that report. Reference to citations, relevant to a given claim, contained in the international search report may be made only in connection with an amendment of that claim.

Consequence if a demand for international preliminary examination has already been filed

If, at the time of filing any amendments under Article 19, a demand for international preliminary examination has already been submitted, the applicant must preferably, at the same time of filing the amendments with the International Bureau, also file a copy of such amendments with the International Preliminary Examining Authority (see Rule 62.2(a), first sentence).

Consequence with regard to translation of the international application for entry into the national phase

The applicant's attention is drawn to the fact that, where upon entry into the national phase, a translation of the claims as amended under Article 19 may have to be furnished to the designated/elected Offices, instead of, or in addition to, the translation of the claims as filed.

For further details on the requirements of each designated/elected Office, see Volume II of the PCT Applicant's Guide.

Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following document :

D1: US-A-5 924 074

The various definitions of the invention given in independent Claims 1, 47, 57, 58, 60 and 61 are such that the claims as a whole are not clear and concise, contrary to Article 6 PCT. The claims should be recast to include only the minimum necessary number of independent claims in any one category, with dependent claims as appropriate (Rule 6.4(a)-(c) PCT).

In the present case it is considered appropriate to use only one independent claim in any category, with dependencies of claims clearly defined, see in this regard also Rule 6.4

The various features of the independent claims and their distributions, are so different that doubts remain for the reader on which are the features essential for the performance of the system/method for which protection will be sought.

In particular, it is not clear if the feature of wirelessly communicating with an endpoint to a network is necessary for the performance of the method to be protected : this feature is absent, for example, in the independent claim 58.

Furthermore, insofar as the present text can be understood, the subject-matter of above independent Claims does not involve an inventive step, and therefore does not satisfy the criterion set forth in Article 33(3) PCT.

In fact, subject to the condition that the objections regarding clarity, are overcome and on the basis of a tentative interpretation as follows, following further observations are made.

The subject-matter of independent claims appears to be directed to a system/method for collecting maintaining and retrieving medical data adopting the technique collecting the patient data and data on his medical conditions, and then allowing only authorized accesses, via entry points of an addressable network.

It is noted that this technique is already known in the art and is disclosed for example in the electronic medical records system known from D1, cf. D1 : Abstract and from column 2, line 21 to column 3, line 42 and figures 1, 4, 13, 14, 24 with related corresponding explaining text.

In this system, cf. in particular lines 49-50 of col. 2, wireless pen-based personal computers are used.

Therefore a clarified independent claim defining an implementation of this known technique is at least not inventive and does not satisfy the criterion set forth in Art. 33(3) PCT, cf. also (Rule 65(1)(2) PCT).

Dependent claims do not contain any features which, in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer, meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of inventive step because they are considered obvious operational features of the methods/systems known in the art, see for example D1.

Re Item VII

Certain defects in the international application

2. Contrary to the requirements of Rule 5.1(a)(ii) PCT, the relevant background art disclosed in the documents D1, is not mentioned in the description, nor are these documents identified therein.

Re Item VIII

Certain observations on the international application

3. Over the unclarities objected, as per point 1. above, it is noted that reference signs in parentheses are not inserted in the claims to increase their intelligibility, Rule 6.2(B) PCT.

Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following document :

D1: US-A-5 924 074

The various definitions of the invention given in independent Claims 1, 47, 57, 58, 60 and 61 are such that the claims as a whole are not clear and concise, contrary to Article 6 PCT. The claims should be recast to include only the minimum necessary number of independent claims in any one category, with dependent claims as appropriate (Rule 6.4(a)-(c) PCT).

In the present case it is considered appropriate to use only one independent claim in any category, with dependencies of claims clearly defined, see in this regard also Rule 6.4

The various features of the independent claims and their distributions, are so different that doubts remain for the reader on which are the features essential for the performance of the system/method for which protection will be sought.

In particular, it is not clear if the feature of wirelessly communicating with an endpoint to a network is necessary for the performance of the method to be protected : this feature is absent, for example, in the independent claim 58.

Furthermore, insofar as the present text can be understood, the subject-matter of above independent Claims does not involve an inventive step, and therefore does not satisfy the criterion set forth in Article 33(3) PCT.

In fact, subject to the condition that the objections regarding clarity, are overcome and on the basis of a tentative interpretation as follows, following further observations are made.

The subject-matter of independent claims appears to be directed to a system/method for collecting maintaining and retrieving medical data adopting the technique collecting the patient data and data on his medical conditions, and then allowing only authorized accesses, via entry points of an addressable network.

It is noted that this technique is already known in the art and is disclosed for example in the electronic medical records system known from D1, cf. D1 : Abstract and from column 2, line 21 to column 3, line 42 and figures 1, 4, 13, 14, 24 with related corresponding explaining text.

In this system, cf. in particular lines 49-50 of col. 2, wireless pen-based personal computers are used.

Therefore a clarified independent claim defining an implementation of this known technique is at least not inventive and does not satisfy the criterion set forth in Art. 33(3) PCT, cf. also (Rule 65(1)(2) PCT).

Dependent claims do not contain any features which, in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer, meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of inventive step because they are considered obvious operational features of the methods/systems known in the art, see for example D1.

Re Item VII

Certain defects in the international application

2. Contrary to the requirements of Rule 5.1(a)(ii) PCT, the relevant background art disclosed in the documents D1, is not mentioned in the description, nor are these documents identified therein.

Re Item VIII

Certain observations on the international application

3. Over the unclarities objected, as per point 1. above, it is noted that reference signs in parentheses are not inserted in the claims to increase their intelligibility, Rule 6.2(B) PCT.
